

Thank you note #4

Thank you for gifting me dream world 😊

Today its been more than 7-8 months we are staying in our home.

Without you its just a flat, but together we have made it our home.

Its our happy place, where we do all the things together from purchasing grocery to cooking, cleaning, washing etc.

We have conquer our happy place , where we cuddle like gf-bf , we fight like hubby – wife , we argue on stupid things ,sometimes you shout and I cry, sometimes I shout and you stop talking ... but at end of the day , we have each other as backbone , no matter what , at ni8 we are together again , I have your arms around me and you have my legs around you :P

And it's like living in dreams 😊

It's like our own little world, and it's all only because of you so thank you so much for conquering our world, baby <3

I Love you.
