Ever since I met you, my life has been on the upturn.

There's a positive shift happening, and I know that it has something to do with you.

You bring out the best in me, and you make me see the world from a different perspective.

Because of you, I no longer let myself down in front of anyone and Now I have become a girl with more self-respect and started to showing necessary attitude where ever needed.

Thank you for opening a whole new world for me and inspire me to improve myself everyday 😊
